Who We Are

Practical Outcomes is a leading Registered Training Organisation (RTO), with over 15 years of experience educating over 21,000 learners.

As a specialist education provider in early childhood education and care and school age care, our human-centered training is designed to enable learners to gain the knowledge, professional skills and confidence to make a meaningful difference in our community. With our nationally accredited courses offered via distance and workplace, our learners gain sector relevant skills supported by real-life practical and hands-on experience.

Wherever our learners are on their learning journey, our structured yet unique approach supports each learner with their different needs and circumstances, ensuring they become equipped to make a positive, caring, and compassionate impact to their personal and workplace environment.

Our team of passionate, supportive, and knowledgeable trainers, alongside our dedicated learner success team can also help organise practical placement and provide support to our learners from start to finish, helping unlock their potential, achieve their goals and thrive in their career.

Practical Outcomes is a Registered Training Organisation and wholly owned subsidiary of Catalyst Education.

Our Purpose, Vision and Values

OUR PURPOSE

is to make a significant contribution to a more capable, caring and compassion society through contemporary, quality education and training, and advocacy for the Care and Education sectors across Australia is to build and skill care workforces for Australia; to lift the success of our learners and partners to new levels, and benefit communities for generations to come

OUR VISION

go to the ambition, diligence and good grace we have in serving the binding purpose of our business and the positive social impact we can make

Goodness

We are bound by the goodness of our purpose, our people, our owners, our partners and our learners in making a positive social impact.

Rigour

We are transparent, diligent and accountable, and hold ourselves to the highest standards of professional and ethical behaviour.

Aspiration

We have the courage to forge a better, bigger and brighter future, and to foster growth, quality, creativity and innovation in our business.

Compassion

We care about the inclusion, wellbeing and belonging of people in our communities and show our concern for a more compassionate society.

Enthusiasm

We are hopeful, joyful and optimistic about the positive social impact we make, working together and for one another.

Getting Started

Welcome!

We created this handbook to give you a head start on your learning. This handbook contains very valuable information that will equip you to deal with matters during your learning with Practical Outcomes. Although we aimed to give you a comprehensive list contained herein, you may still have further questions, so please do not hesitate to approach us for clarification.

Your Enrolment

Enrolment Process

The enrolment process helps ensure the training program aligns with your individual needs and career goals. Our Growth and Partnership team is available to guide you through this process, answer your questions, and provide all the necessary information. Once you confirm your interest, we'll email you links to the application form and required documents.

As part of the enrolment process, you'll complete a Pre-Training Review (PTR). This essential step includes:

- A Language, Literacy, and Numeracy (LLN) test.
- A Pre-Training Interview to review your skills, clarify your information, and discuss the course and industry in detail.

The PTR ensures the program suits your goals and abilities, helping set you up for success.

We encourage you to share your goals, concerns, or any challenges you might face during the course. If you need additional support, this is the perfect time to let us know so we can assist you in achieving your qualification.

For more information, please refer to our Application and Enrolment Policy

Unique Student Identifier (USI)

USI is a unique identifier issued to every learner undertaking nationally recognised training in Australia. It is a requirement under Australian law and ensures that all training records and results are linked to a single, secure online record.

You must provide your USI (Unique Student Identifier) information to Practical Outcomes via the application form unless you have been granted an Individual Exemption under the Student Identifiers Act 2014.

Creating a USI is free and can be done online via the official USI website <http://www.usi.gov.au/>

Training Delivery

Workplace training

Workplace training combines the convenience of online study with the practical benefits of applying your skills directly in your role. It involves a tailored approach where a dedicated trainer works closely with you, arranging regular face-to-face visits at your workplace to provide personalised guidance, support, and mentorship throughout your learning journey.

Distance training

This flexible delivery mode allows you to study at your own pace, with practical placement opportunities that we can assist in organising to ensure you gain essential hands-on experience.

Your dedicated trainer will provide ongoing support through email, video call, and phone, offering personalised feedback and guidance. Additionally, they will conduct regular placement visits to observe your progress, assess your skills, and provide coaching to help you succeed.

Set up for Online Learning

Online Learning

Online training allows you to complete your studies at your own pace, wherever and whenever it suits you. This delivery mode is designed to give you 24/7 access to interactive learning materials and assessments, including videos, quizzes, and other engaging content.

With Practical Outcomes' online training, you're never alone on your learning journey. Your trainer will offer ongoing guidance, feedback, and encouragement, ensuring you feel supported every step of the way. Whether you're upskilling, pursuing a new career, or seeking a qualification to enhance your role, online training makes it possible to achieve your goals on your terms.

Textbooks and Learner Kit

Learning guides, listed textbooks and/or E-books are a compulsory requirement of the course and are included in the course fees unless otherwise stated in the course information. You will receive required textbooks in eBook format; if you wish to purchase a hard copy, this will be at your own discretion and cost.

Manage Your Enrolment

Variation to Enrolment

This section outlines the circumstances in which your enrolment can be deferred, transferred, withdrawn or cancelled by yourself or by Practical Outcomes.

All variations to enrolments must be submitted to the trainer, Regional Manager or other RTO representative in writing. Requests for withdrawal should be discussed with your trainer prior to submitting them in writing.

Your enrolment can be deferred, transferred, withdrawn or cancelled in limited circumstances by Practical Outcomes or by yourself, as the learner.

You have the right to appeal a decision made by Practical Outcomes, regarding the deferral, transfer, withdrawal or cancellation of your enrolment. See relevant policies below.

Withdrawal and Cancellation Policy

Complaints and Appeals Policy

a) Deferral, Transfer, Withdrawal or Cancellation of Enrolment

You may defer your studies during the course in the following limited circumstances:

- On the grounds of compassionate or compelling circumstances (at the discretion of Practical Outcomes).
- On medical grounds where a certificate is provided.
- As an intervention strategy for unsatisfactory course progress – this must be discussed with your trainer and/or Regional Manager. LLN Support assistance is available for all learners.

You must discuss your request with your trainer who will then prepare a variation form with documentation attached to support your claim of compelling or compassionate circumstances. The granting of a deferral of enrolment is at the discretion of the Institute.

You can defer your studies for 3 months at a time, with the maximum length a learner can defer being 12 months. This is at the absolute discretion of the Regional Manager or Head of Training and Learning and will depend on individual circumstances.

If you fail to return to study at the end of an approved deferral period, you may have your enrolment cancelled.

b) Learner Initiated Deferral, Transfer or Withdrawal

Transfer

Once a course has commenced, you may request a transfer to a different delivery mode (workplace/distance), location, enrolment type (traineeship/non-traineeship), funding type or different trainer. If this applies to you, you must discuss this with your trainer or Practical Outcomes' representative who will then complete a variation form with documentation attached to support their claim of a transfer. The granting of a transfer is at the discretion of Practical Outcomes.

A funding transfer admin fee will apply in following scenarios:

- You are enrolled as non-trainee and would like to transfer to a traineeship enrolment
- You are enrolled as a trainee and would like to transfer to a non-traineeship enrolment
- You are enrolled as a trainee and would like to transfer your traineeship enrolment to a new employer

Please refer to our pricing schedule Child Care Courses Fees & Funding | Practical Outcomes for further information. If you have any additional queries regarding transfers, please contact us on 1300 799 610.

A transfer does not entitle you to a refund.

Withdrawal

Should you wish to withdraw your enrolment, you must inform your trainer or other RTO representative in writing via an email; the trainer will then prepare a variation form. Should you request a refund, the Fee and Refund Policy will apply.

c) Assessing and Recording Learner Requests to Defer

The Regional Managers are responsible for approving learner-initiated deferrals and withdrawals. In rare cases, the Head of Training and Learning has absolute discretion in these matters.

In assessing the request, the Manager will consider:

- The evidence provided by the learner to demonstrate compelling, compassionate or extenuating circumstances.
- The impact these circumstances may have on the ability of the learner to continue with their studies.
- The impact these circumstances may have on the learner's ability to complete the course within the expected study duration.
- The duration of the deferral requested.
- The support options available to the learner (e.g., study plan, LLN support, temporary reduction in course load, special arrangements regarding visits or other forms of communications).

You will be advised by phone or email of the outcome of your request for a deferral. If you are dissatisfied with the outcome of a request, you can access the Complaints and Appeals Process.

All documentation relating to the assessment and outcome of your deferral and cancellation applications will be documented on your records. All discussions undertaken with the learner during the processing of the application will be recorded on the Student Management System.

You are advised to retain your original documents (e.g., medical certificates) for your own records and submit copies with applications for deferral or withdrawal. Practical Outcomes may ask to see the original documents for verification purposes.

d) RTO initiated Deferral

Practical Outcomes can defer a learner's enrolment in the following instances:

- As part of an intervention strategy for unsatisfactory course progress (provided there is evidence of extenuating circumstances).
- In compassionate and compelling circumstances.
- In situations where the safety of the learner may be compromised.

The length of time you can have your enrolment deferred at the initiation of Practical Outcomes is at the absolute discretion of the Regional Managers and Head of Training and Learning. Your enrolment cannot be suspended for more than three months without reassessing the circumstances that led to the deferral to determine if you are still applicable.

If you become uncontactable at the point when deferral is due to end, the Re-engagement process will begin and may lead to cancellation from the course.

e) Cancellation

Practical Outcomes may cancel a learner's enrolment in the following instances:

- The learner demonstrates serious misconduct.
- Erratic course progress, for example, consistent unsatisfactory engagement or continued non-adherence to deadlines.
- Failure to show ongoing monthly engagement in units of study.
- Lack of consistent contact with trainer and/or support services.
- Non-payment of outstanding fees.
- Failure to return to study after the end of an approved deferral period.
- Failure to achieve a satisfactory result after 3 submission attempts of an assessment task.
- Engagement in cases of plagiarism and collusion
- The passing of the course end date where no contact has been made with their trainer to extend this date.
- Non-adherence to the Code of Conduct, including but not limited to health and safety breaches, abusive or aggressive behaviour towards RTO staff and trainers, sexual harassment or breach of the principles of equal opportunity and mutual respect.

You will be informed in writing of the cancellation and have 20 working days to appeal. Evidence and supporting documentation will be required for all appeals.

f) Re-enrolment/ Return to training

If you wish to re-enrol with Practical Outcomes after officially withdrawing from your course, you will need to contact us through phone or email to inform us of the reason of return.

Your request will be assessed by a Regional Manager, and you may be contacted for further discussions. It is at the discretion of the Regional Manager and Head of Training and Learning to approve the re-enrolment request after considering reason for withdrawal/cancellation, period of absence and qualification updates.

g) Appealing a Cancellation Decision

In cases where deferral or cancellation of your enrolment is initiated by Practical Outcomes, you will be notified in writing of the reason for the deferral or cancellation and are given 20 working days to access the Institute's Complaints and Appeals process, unless extenuating circumstances relating to the welfare of the learner exist. If extenuating circumstances exist, cancellation or deferral can be implemented prior to the 20-working day appeal period passing.

Appeals will be dealt with expeditiously to minimise any disadvantage to you if your appeal is upheld. You are not permitted to return to your studies until the process has been finalised.

h) Re-engagement Process

To support you in your learning journey, we need to ensure you are actively working towards completing your studies and progressing through your course.

If you do fall behind or become disengaged in your studies, your trainer will be in touch to try and get you back on track. If you continue to fall behind, this may be escalated to a Regional Manager who will be in touch and may begin sending letters regarding your course progression. These letters contain a new due date for you to submit work by; if these dates aren't met your enrolment may be cancelled. If dates are met you can continue with your studies, but if you fall behind again the same procedure will occur.

Please inform us if your contact details (email address and phone number) have changed to ensure that we can reach out to you regarding your course progress. By failing to do so, you may miss an important communication regarding your enrolment and your new due dates. It is advisable to regularly check your junk/spam folder to make sure you have not missed an email from us.

Please note - As a learner, you can only go through the re-engagement process three times within your course enrolment; after three times your enrolment will be cancelled in line with the Withdrawal and Cancellation Policy.

Course Credit/Credit Transfer/Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Practical Outcomes offers opportunity for course credit and/or Credit Transfer (CT), and/or Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC) and/or Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) for all learners at enrolment and ensures that the process is structured to minimise time and cost to learners.

Practical Outcomes will provide information and support to help you gather the relevant evidence to support your claim for recognition of the competencies you have acquired. The procedure ensures that there will be written verification of the outcome and that proper records are kept in your file. Please read the relevant rules below.

a) Credit Transfer

Credit Transfer is the granting of credit to learners for units of competency achieved through accredited training. These units and their learning outcomes must be equivalent to the units that the learner is applying for and must have been completed under the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Learners who have achieved competency in the same unit(s) through previous accredited training will be eligible for a credit transfer toward units in the qualification they are enrolling in, or where the units they have previously completed are deemed equivalent to units in chosen qualification.

Learners seeking a credit transfer are required to supply evidence to demonstrate they hold the equivalent unit. Evidence could include:

- A certificate with record of results
- Statement of Attainment
- USI Transcript

Practical Outcomes will verify your competencies through USI Registry and will need you to provide access to view your transcript. If the competencies were achieved prior to introduction of USI, Practical Outcomes will contact the issuing training provider.

Practical Outcomes will only consider credit for qualifications and/or units completed within the Australian Qualifications Framework. Practical Outcomes does not offer credit for study completed outside the Australian Qualifications Framework, i.e., non-Australian qualifications. Practical Outcomes does not issue a qualification comprising entirely of credit transfers. This does not include hours of previous placement logged; previously completed placement hours cannot be credited and must be completed during the course of studying with Practical Outcomes.

If the previously held unit is deemed non-equivalent then Credit Transfer cannot be awarded, and the learner may need to apply for Recognition of Prior Learning.

b) Recognition of Prior Learning

Recognition of Prior Learning is the acknowledgement of skills and knowledge that have been gained through training, work, or life experiences into formal competencies. The assessment of RPL is carried out by collating evidence against formal competencies as described in the relevant training package.

The RPL process involves the learner gathering evidence and matching it against the specific learning outcomes of individual units of competency. A Practical Outcomes Assessor will be appointed to assist the learner with this process.

Where the qualified assessor determines that the evidence is sufficient to demonstrate current competency against the unit requirements, the learner will be awarded the unit. In many cases this will mean the learner can complete all or part of a qualification without needing to attend training – although training may be required where there are gaps in the learner's knowledge and/or skills.

You will need to provide evidence to demonstrate that you are currently competent against the endorsed industry competency standards. The responsibility is on you to provide enough evidence to satisfy the requirements of current competency.

Evidence could include:

- Subject Outlines from previous study
- Resume (Personal)
- Position description that can be verified
- References from contactable former employers
- Testimonials from clients
- Work samples
- Relevant life experience

- Relevant work experience

If you apply for RPL, you will be provided with an RPL kit to provide structure to the application process. There will be a cost associated with this process. Please refer to our Fees and Funding page for further information

Issuing Certificates and Statement of Attainment

- Certificates and Statements of Attainment are issued within 30 days of course completion, providing that all tuition fees have been paid. This is to allow time for assessments to be marked, results to be reviewed, and certificates to be processed.
- If you have withdrawn prior to completing a qualification, you are eligible to receive a Statement of Attainment (SOA) for any units completed and deemed competent. A Statement of Attainment will not be issued for units completed via Credit Transfer, or for units wherein only the theory has been completed (i.e., Satisfactory, rather than Competent).
- Certificates and Statements of attainment will be issued digitally in all cases. It is the learner's responsibility to ensure that their nominated email address is accessible and correct.

Reprints/ hard copy:

Paper-based copies or re-prints of Certificates or Statements of Attainment can be requested at an additional $50.00 cost to the learner. Please complete 'Request a certificate reprint' form (online) available on our website - Student Resource Centre - Info For Students | Practical Outcomes

Change of Address

Please ensure Practical Outcomes always has your current address. You must inform your trainer or other RTO representative of any changes to your personal details in writing. This will ensure that all communications can occur, and your certificate can be posted to your correct address at completion of your course.

If you need to change your details, please use the form below:

- Change of personal information form

Attendance of Classes – Classroom Based Learners only

Attendance at scheduled classroom sessions for all classroom or virtual classroom-based learners is a requirement for learners to ensure they gain the knowledge and skills required for the qualification they are studying.

There may be times that you cannot attend a classroom session. You can be absent from 3 classes during your classroom delivery schedule. If you are absent for more than 3 classes, you may be transferred to an alternative delivery model or cancelled from your course enrolment at the discretion of the Regional Manager and Head of Training and Learning.

Prior to you being transferred to an alternative delivery model or cancellation from the course, you will be issued letters after each absent day to inform you of your requirements to attend classes and encourage you to contact your trainer to discuss further.

Your Learning

Assessments

What is an Assessment?

Assessment is an integral part of being awarded a qualification or statement of attainment. It is the process of collecting evidence and making judgements on whether competency has been achieved. Practical Outcomes delivers training and assessment using the principles of competency-based training and assessment. Competency based assessment is governed by the assessment standards within the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Practical Outcomes ensures all assessment is conducted according to the Principles of Assessment (assessment must be valid, reliable, fair and flexible) and Rules of Evidence (evidence collected to demonstrate competency must be valid, authentic, current and sufficient) as specified in the Standards for RTOs.

Practical Outcomes is committed to transparent assessment processes and outcomes that are clearly explained to assessors and learners, in order to minimise the likelihood of assessor error and learner misunderstanding. However, where a learner disagrees with their assessment result, they can access the assessment appeals process. Please refer to our Complaints and Appeals Policy.

Assessment Methods

To successfully complete the units of competency in your program, you will be assessed using a variety of assessment methods. Assessment methods vary across our programs and delivery modes, and for each module, cluster or unit of competency within a program. However, typical assessment methods include:

- Question and answer
- Case studies with associated questions
- Research-based projects
- Videos/Photographic evidence (utilised in some assessment tasks)

- Simulated assessments (completed in a simulated environment set up by your trainer)
- Observation sessions where your assessor will observe you performing a range of tasks in your workplace/placement organisation.

Each assessment associated with a module, cluster or unit of competency is outlined in the relevant assessment booklet or in our online learning portal. These assessments are written very clearly, using step-by-step instructions to explain exactly what you will need to do to complete the task, the resources you'll need, how long it should take and, most importantly, what you'll need to submit to your trainer/assessor as evidence.

To support you in completing your assessments, you will be provided with learning materials and ongoing support from your trainer. Learning materials also vary across our programs and delivery modes and may include:

- Learner guides or eLearning modules and Recommended reading – textbooks or eBooks
- Face-to-face/MS Teams coaching, mentoring and support.

Assessment for a whole unit or module or cluster of units is a combination of several of the above methods.

You are advised of assessment methods and requirements in advance and any special needs you may have, are considered.

Assessment criteria is detailed in the course program guide, assessment theory booklets and on the online learner portal. Due dates of assessment are provided to you by your trainer. If you are unable to submit an assessment task on time, this must be discussed with the assessor prior to the due date.

Extensions will only be granted by the trainer in extenuating circumstances.

A marking guide is used by trainers and assessors when marking learner assessments to ensure consistency of assessing.

Assessment Appeals

Assessment appeals are guided by the terms and conditions within the Complaints and Appeals Policy. If you do not agree with a result, you have the right for an assessment decision to be reviewed. Before requesting a formal review, we recommend that you discuss your concerns with your trainer. If this does not resolve the concern, you can lodge a formal appeal request.

You must lodge the formal appeal request in writing or email within two weeks (14 days) of receiving your results, clearly stating the grounds of the appeal. This should then be directed to Head of Training and Learning. If the process is not followed within the required time frame, no appeal process will be entered.

If the Head of Training and Learning believes a review of your result is warranted, a review panel will be formed comprising the trainer, the Manager and one neutral qualified assessor. The review panel may suggest that you sit for a supplementary assessment or exam, depending on the cause of the not-yet-competent result. If the learner fails the supplementary assessment, a not-yet-competent result will be shown for that assessment or unit. You will be notified within 5 days of the result of your appeal by email. If you are not satisfied with the outcome of your appeal then an independent mediator can be requested. Please refer to our Complaints and Appeals Policy for details. The result is final, and no further appeal can be made. This may result in your withdrawal from the course.

How to check the due date or ask for extension

a) Online portal learners

If you are studying via our online learning portal, the due date for each assessment task will appear next to the relevant learning item on your 'My Progress'/Learning Plan page once you have commenced the module or unit.

Your assessment due date will continue to be displayed (and may appear as 'overdue') after you have submitted your assessment but before your trainer has marked it – don't worry! Your trainer will receive a notification that your work has been submitted and will review your submission within 5 working days.

Practical Placement

Practical placement is an essential part of building the hands-on skills needed to succeed in the workplace. At Practical Outcomes, we make it easy for learners to gain this experience through practical placement, which our dedicated Practical Placement Coordinator can assist in organising.

For learners not currently employed in an education and care or community care service, our programs are structured to include dedicated practical placement time. This ensures learners have the opportunity to apply their knowledge in real-world settings, developing the confidence and competence needed to graduate career ready.

Where Practical Placement is applicable, it is set out in practical placement blocks at specific points throughout the course. Practical Placement blocks must be completed within the set timeframe allocated to them within the qualification you are undertaking.

a) Early Childhood Education and Care

It is recommended that you complete these blocks 2 days per week, 7.5 hours per day. Any adjustments to this recommendation are assessed on a case-by-case basis and are subject to approval by your Trainer and Assessor. A minimum of 5 hours per day (totalling 15 hours per week minimum) applies.

b) School Age Education and Care

Learner will complete their placement throughout their qualification during their working hours. Learners must be employed in a regulated School Age Education and Care service for the duration of their qualification.

How You Receive Feedback

Your trainer will give you feedback on each of your assessment tasks, either in person, or in writing via email or the online learning portal. Feedback is given within 5 working days of submitting an assessment task from your trainer.

If your trainer sees that you have not completed all parts of an assessment satisfactorily, they will provide you with feedback and strategies for improvement, and you will need to resubmit those parts of the assessment. The details of resubmission, including due dates, will be documented and discussed with you when you are provided with the outcome.

How many attempts do I have?

You have up to three opportunities to submit your assessments before a final outcome of 'Not Yet Satisfactory' is assigned to the relevant unit. You may be given a further attempt at the absolute discretion of your trainer.

How will I know the outcome?

Once your trainer/assessor has marked all your assessments and completed any required observations for a particular unit of competency, they will give you a copy of an outcome report which will state whether you have been assessed as 'Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent'.

What happens if I'm given a final outcome of 'Not Yet Competent'?

If you receive a final outcome of 'Not Yet Competent' for a unit of competency, you will be referred to your trainers Regional Manager to discuss whether the program you're enrolled into is still the most suitable and appropriate option for you and if there are learning supports we can offer to help you complete your course.

However, if you do not agree with the outcome and would like to dispute it, you can submit a formal appeal to have the outcome reviewed. Please refer to the complaints and appeal policy.

How You Provide Feedback /Learner Feedback

Learner feedback is gathered both formally and informally throughout the course. These surveys are confidential and are distributed and collected by Practical Outcomes to allow learners free and fair comment. The information collected is used to make decisions about academic issues, staff training, process improvement and understanding how we can improve. We may ask you for your feedback from time to time.

Plagiarism

As a learner completing a nationally accredited qualification, you are expected to act with integrity and professionalism throughout your learning journey. At Practical Outcomes, we treat matters of plagiarism and collusion very seriously and penalties may be applied if our policies are breached.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is defined as the use of someone else's work without acknowledgement. It refers to the presentation and submission of work produced by others as if it was your own.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating. It may result in either failure to attain competency in that unit or withdrawal from the course of study.

Plagiarism can include:

- Copying someone else's assignment work or assessment
- Using information which another learner has collected without acknowledging it
- Copying from the internet or a textbook without using an appropriate form of referencing

- Using the ideas or research which you have found in a textbook without referencing, even if you have written those ideas or research findings into your own words
- Using electronic dictionaries in lectures and tutorials where definition-based knowledge is required
- Using AI technology including but not limited to ChatGPT and presenting that work as your own

Whenever you use the thoughts, ideas, research findings or words of someone else, you must show where those thoughts, ideas, research findings or words come from.

When completing your assessments, you are required to write your own responses in your own words, demonstrating your own knowledge and skills relating to a topic. The only exception to this rule is if you need to use an exact quote from a reputable source to support your response to a question. In this case, you would need to reference the quote.

For assistance with referencing refer to the Harvard Referencing Guide from: Harvard Referencing

Collusion

Collusion occurs when two or more learners consciously collaborate in the preparation and production of work which is ultimately submitted by each in an identical, or substantially similar form and/or is represented by each to be the product of their own individual efforts. Collusion also occurs where there is unauthorised cooperation between a learner and another person in the preparation and production of work which is presented as the learner's own.

Ultimately, you are responsible for your own learning experience and outcomes. Remember to always act with honesty, integrity and professionalism. And if you are ever unsure, please speak with your trainer for advice.

Collusion is a form of plagiarism. Learners should not knowingly allow their work to be copied.

Learners have a responsibility to:

- Familiarise themselves with the type of referencing required for their competency(s) and ask for assistance and guidance
- Avoid all acts which could be considered plagiarism
- Seek assistance from appropriate sources with any academic writing areas where they are aware, they need more knowledge and skills

Intentional Plagiarism is plagiarism which is deliberate with the intention to deceive e.g. copying someone else's assignment and passing it off as your own work; copying large amount of works from other sources without acknowledging those sources.

Unintentional Plagiarism is plagiarism which results from a lack of understanding of the concept of plagiarism, or a lack of skill in referencing / acknowledging sources in your written assessments.

Group-work means a project / assignment which is conducted by several learners, resulting in a single piece of assessment or a number of associated pieces of assessment. Unless authorised or directed by trainer as part of your assessment, 'group-work' is not an acceptable excuse for plagiarism.

Collusion involves working with others without permission to produce work, which is then presented as your own, without acknowledging the input of others. This includes working together on an assignment and handing in identical, or very similar, written assessments.

Penalties for Plagiarism, collusion, and cheating

Each case will be individually assessed.

The level of intent to deceive, the extent of the plagiarism and the learner's history regarding plagiarism will be the principal criteria for determining penalties.

Penalties may include any, or all, of the following:

- A verbal or written warning
- Resubmission of all assessments
- Cancellation of enrolment

Learner Success services and Support

We aspire to teach, motivate, and inspire learners to reach their highest stage of professional development and growth.

Throughout your journey as a learner, you will have the opportunity to be taught and mentored by sector leaders and professionals; having access to their expertise ensures you are empowered to secure your dream career. Our learner success services are available to all learners within business hours no matter what, where and how they study.

Practical Outcomes provides the following learner success services:

- Monitoring of learner welfare and assistance resolving issues which could impede your successful completion of the study programs.
- Language, Literacy and Numeracy support for learners who require it (including but not limited to learners who speak English as an additional language or dialect and those with additional educational needs).
- Support and guidance regarding Practical Placement from experienced, sector-leading experts.

Your Trainers and Assessors

All Trainers and Assessors employed to deliver training and assessment on behalf of Practical Outcomes maintain their industry currency and professional development for all qualifications they deliver and assess. Trainers/ Assessors also maintain their Vocational Education and Training (VET) currency and professional development.

All Trainers and Assessors involved in online delivery have undertaken and maintain professional development in online delivery.

Your trainer and assessor will be your first point of contact throughout your course. They will provide guidance, motivation and training, in addition to assessing your work. They will make you aware of their working hours at the start of your course; please allow 5 working days for assessment feedback and one working day for other enquiries. Our trainers are all qualified in training and assessment with significant sector experience. Our trainers participate in various professional development activities regularly to ensure their knowledge and skills are up to date.

Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) Support

Learners undertaking our programs will require the appropriate ACSF level associated with language, literacy, and numeracy (LLN) skills relevant to the context of their course and role. Your skills will be assessed during a pre-training review process. This will ensure that you will have the skills to complete all training and assessment in line with the ACSF level of the qualification or can be provided with the additional support required.

If you are identified as needing additional support with language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) skills, you will be referred to one of our LLN Support Coordinators for specialist assistance. The LLN Support Coordinator will provide additional learning assistance throughout the course by outlining agreed strategies to achieve learner success. Where internal support cannot be provided, you may be referred to an external agency. If the course is not deemed suitable for you as a learner based on ACSF levels, you will be informed by the LLN Support Coordinator.

Placement Assistance

Should you require attending placement, we have a dedicated Work Placement Coordinator who can answer any questions you may have and assist you with finding a host organisation to undertake practical placement.

Foundation Skills

Practical Outcomes understands the importance of having strong foundation skills. These are non-technical skills that support your participation in the workplace, in the community and in education and training. In our programs, the foundation skills incorporate the learning, language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) skills described in the Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF).

Throughout our courses we embed 'soft' skills that will improve learners' professional prospects, such as time management, self-awareness, emotional intelligence, and interpersonal communication skills.

Reasonable Adjustments

Reasonable adjustment refers to an action taken by an education provider to enable learners with disability to participate in education and training on the same basis as others. These adjustments are designed to remove barriers while maintaining the integrity of the competency standards and course requirements.

Reasonable adjustments might include alternative assessment methods, additional support, or modified activities. However, these adjustments must align with the assessment requirements of your course and not impose unjustifiable hardship on you or Practical Outcomes.

If you believe adjustments are needed to support your learning, please discuss this with your trainer or assessor. We will work with you to explore options that suit your needs and ensure you have every opportunity to succeed.

Learners Under 18 years of age

Practical Outcomes is committed to child safety standards and understands its duty of care toward underage learners under 18 years of age. We want to make sure that you and your guardians are aware of important information relevant to your enrolment.

It is a requirement for the parent/guardian of a learner under 18 years of age to complete and sign the parent signature form at the time of application to confirm their understanding of learner obligations. Please make sure that you have provided accurate contact details of your guardian on the application form.

The guardian will also need to sign a Practical Placement Agreement form to provide their consent for the arrangement.

Please note that our course material on the learning management system may contain confronting and sensitive information that is marked with disclaimers and trigger warnings. We encourage you to seek assistance from your guardian or trainer if you need support to undertake such learning or assessment activity.

Support for progression through your course

To enhance your learning experience and support your success, we will connect with your workplace about your studies. This approach is designed to ensure you receive the encouragement and assistance you need from both us and your workplace, helping you stay motivated and achieve your learning goals.

Here's what this means for you:

- Enhanced Support: By keeping your workplace informed, we aim to create a supportive environment that enhances your learning and development.
- Regular Updates: Your workplace will receive regular updates on your progress, achievements, successes, and engagement levels.
- Collaborative Efforts: We will work closely with your workplace to overcome any challenges you may face and find effective solutions to keep you motivated and engaged.

We understand that balancing work and study can be challenging, and our goal is to help you overcome any obstacles you may encounter. If you are facing any specific difficulties, please do not hesitate to reach out to us. We are here to support you in any way we can.

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation. We believe that with this approach, we can help you achieve your educational goals and set you on a path to success.

Code of Conduct: Understanding Your Rights and Responsibilities

Practical Outcomes takes the safety and wellbeing of learners and staff alike very seriously. As a compassionate organisation, we are dedicated to the principles of equality and respect and strive to ensure all stakeholders feel safe, supported and seen. Our code of conduct contains non-negotiable behaviours that we expect from our learners.

Learner Responsibilities

As a learner, it is your responsibility to:

- Engage with training, maintain contact with your trainer and demonstrate satisfactory academic progress. This includes adhering to deadlines.
- Ensure that any personal/medical circumstances that may affect your ability to complete your course are discussed with their trainers and assessors as soon as they become known. Medical conditions, personal circumstances or problems not declared, cannot be considered in assessing course performance.
- To be aware of the correct time, date and location of all work placements, training sessions, simulation days, and assessment dates that they have.
- Ensure that all course work, assessments, and portfolios of evidence are in concise and accurate English and is your own work (see Plagiarism and Collusion below for further details).
- To behave in a way that is respectful of fellow learners and staff. Any abusive or aggressive behaviour, or behaviour which contravenes any law or principle around respect, hate speech, equality and diversity will be treated with the utmost seriousness by Practical Outcomes.

Dress Standards, General Conduct and Rules

Learners performing their practical work on placement are expected to wear Practical Outcomes uniform or appropriate attire as stated in their placement information or as discussed with their trainer.

You are expected to behave professionally at all times. You may be withdrawn or suspended from your training or work placement if you compromise the safety and wellbeing of any stakeholder through unprofessional behaviour or attitude.

You are expected to dress in an appropriate manner and should be mindful you are being prepared for a work environment where a dress code should be expected.

Practical Outcomes prepares learners for employment in varied industries. You are reminded that you are representing the RTO when on placement or undertaking work related to your studies.

Health laws prohibit smoking inside buildings anywhere. You must leave the building if you wish to smoke, and smoke in the designated area.

Diversity

Practical Outcomes values diversity. We value staff, learners and clients with different backgrounds and experiences, and aim to ensure equality and competence surrounding diversity and inclusion in the workplace.

We value diversity, inclusion and equity in connection with the vision and mission for the benefit of staff, learners and clients.

We recognise that our learners come from very diverse, multicultural backgrounds and identities -- this includes coming from a range of religious, cultural, and socioeconomic backgrounds and embodying a range of ages, ethnicities, disabilities, genders and sexualities.

We also acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the land on which we live, work and play.

Health and Safety

Your health and safety while training is Practical Outcomes' highest priority. We aim to provide a safe and healthy environment that minimises the risk of any incident, accident, or injury. While we take every care of the safety of our venues, you also have a role to play.

Responsibility of Learners

- Follow all safety rules.
- Report unsafe conditions and practices to your Trainer and Assessor.
- Learn and study in a way that maintains your safety and that of fellow learners.
- Take care of your mental and physical health.
- Follow and adhere to the organisation's COVID Safe plan and vaccination policy.

Drugs and Alcohol

Practical Outcomes provides a learning and training environment which aims to ensure the health, safety, respect, and productivity of all learners. The use of drugs and alcohol may impair an individual's capacity to learn safely, efficiently and with respect for other learners. The use of such substances may result in the risk of injury or a threat to your wellbeing or that of other parties.

Our policy is that no learner is to attend training and assessment while under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol. Every learner, academic and staff member is entitled to enjoy a safe and respectful environment and breaching this policy can result in termination of studies.

Prescription Drugs and Medication

Practical Outcomes does not prohibit the use of prescription pharmaceuticals. If you are concerned, you should check with your doctor to see that the prescription does not impair study performance or put yourself or others at risk.

Injury or Illness

A relatively minor incident will be treated by Practical Outcomes' First Aid Officer if occurs on Practical Outcomes premises. However, if the incident requires immediate medical attention, the First Aid officer may ask you to contact or will contact emergency services.

If you are a learner under 18 years of age, our staff will endeavour to contact a parent or guardian to transport you safely to your place of residence.

Practical Outcomes staff member will remain with you until you receive medical attention, or your emergency contact arrives.

Any injury sustained during practical placement must be reported to the host employer and Practical Outcomes. Your host employer will assist you if the incident occurs on their premises and organise medical assistance if needed.

Child Safety

Practical Outcomes is committed to child safety standards and fostering a culture where our staff, learners and other stakeholders feel confident to raise child safety concerns within and outside the organisation.

cccccc

We believe that all children have the right to be safe, and we take a zero-tolerance approach to all forms of child abuse and neglect. This means it is everyone's responsibility to actively identify risks, take steps to reduce or remove them, and report any concerns to the appropriate authorities in accordance with the legislative requirements for further investigation.

If you ever have concerns or are unsure how to proceed, reach out to your trainer or a trusted authority for guidance.

Harassment, Bullying and Discrimination

Practical Outcomes is committed to ensuring that its work, teaching, learning, and assessment environments are free from harassment, bullying and discrimination. Whether direct or indirect, intentional, or unintentional, harassment, bullying or discriminatory behaviour is not accepted or tolerated at Practical Outcomes. Disciplinary action will be taken against any learner found to be engaging in harassment, bullying or discriminatory behaviour. This includes but is not limited to the withdrawal of your enrolment with Practical Outcomes. Some forms of harassment, bullying and discrimination may be reported and constitute a criminal offence.

Harassment

Harassment occurs when uninvited or unwelcome behaviour causes someone, or a group of people, to feel intimidated, insulted, or humiliated. Harassment can be against the law when a person is treated less favourably based on certain personal characteristics including, but not limited to: race, religion, cultural heritage, pregnancy, marital status, breastfeeding, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or intersex status.

a) Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is any unwanted, unwelcome, or uninvited behaviour of a sexual nature, which makes a person feel humiliated, intimidated or offended. Sexual harassment can occur between anyone, regardless of gender identity or sexual orientation.

Conduct can amount to sexual harassment even if the person did not intend to offend, humiliate, or intimidate the other person. Sexual harassment in education is illegal under the Sex Discrimination Act 1984. Some forms may be reported and constitute a criminal offence (e.g., indecent exposure, sexual assault, stalking).

Examples of sexual harassment include, but are not limited to:

- Physical contact such as pinching, touching, grabbing, kissing or hugging
- Staring or leering at a person or at parts of their body
- Sexual jokes or comments
- Requests for sexual favours
- Persistent requests for social engagements, where they are refused
- Sexually explicit conversations
- Displays of offensive material such as posters, screen savers, internet material, etc.
- Accessing or downloading sexually explicit material from the internet
- Suggestive comments about a person's body or appearance, and
- Sending rude, explicit, or offensive emails, attachments, or text messages

Bullying

Bullying is repeated and unreasonable behaviour directed towards an individual or group where that behaviour creates a physical or mental health risk to health and safety.

“Unreasonable behaviour” means behaviour that a reasonable person, having regard to all the circumstances, would expect to victimise, humiliate, undermine, or threaten another person.

Bullying can be direct or indirect. Examples can include, but are not limited to:

a) Direct Bullying

- Abusive, insulting, or offensive language or comments

- Spreading misinformation or malicious rumours
- Behaviour or language that frightens, humiliates, belittles, or degrades, including over criticizing, or criticism that is delivered with yelling or screaming
- Displaying offensive material
- Inappropriate comments about a person's appearance, lifestyle, their family, or sexual or romantic preferences
- Teasing or regularly making someone the brunt of pranks or practical jokes
- Interfering with a person's personal property

b) Indirect Bullying

- Deliberately excluding or isolating a person from normal activities
- Withholding information that is necessary for effective learning and assessment
- Deliberately denying access to resources
- Deliberately changing study arrangements to inconvenience a particular person.

Discrimination

Discrimination may occur when distinctions are made between individuals or groups to disadvantage some and advantage others. Discrimination happens when a person, or group of people is treated less favourably than another person or group because of their background or personal characteristics. This is known as 'direct discrimination'.

It is also discrimination when an unreasonable rule or policy applies to everyone but has the effect of disadvantaging some people because of a personal characteristic they share. This is known as 'indirect discrimination.'

It is unlawful to discriminate on the basis of the following characteristics:

- Race
- Ethnicity
- Sex or Gender
- Sexual orientation
- Age
- Physical or mental disability
- Marital status
- Family or carers responsibilities
- Pregnancy
- Religion
- Political opinion
- National extraction or social origin

Further specifics on the prohibited grounds of discrimination are set out in the Federal, State and Territory anti-discrimination laws.

Complaints of Harassment, Bullying and Discrimination

All complaints in relation to harassment, bullying and discrimination are to be directed immediately to the Head of Training and Learning. All complaints of harassment, bullying and discrimination will be treated seriously, investigated promptly, impartially, confidentially and in accordance with the principles of natural justice. If sexual harassment is found to have occurred, action will be taken to stop the behaviour immediately. The complainant and/or offender may be referred to an external agency for counselling and support. Depending on the seriousness of the case, appropriate disciplinary action (which may include withdrawal from study with Practical Outcomes) will be undertaken. Sexual harassment or discriminatory practices involving a crime will be reported to the police. This also applies to learners under 18 years of age as Practical Outcomes expects everyone to adhere to the code of conduct and not engage in inappropriate and disrespectful behaviours.
